NATIONAL AWARDS FOR CHILD WELFARE

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

MINISTRY OF WOMEN & CHILD DEVELOPMENT

SHASTRI BHAWAN

NEW DELHI

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR PROTECTION OF CHILDREN
REPORT ON THE CAUSE OF CHILDREN

INTRODUCTION

1. Child population in India of the age group 0-14, according to the 1981 census, is 272 million. This is 39.7% of the total population.

2. The preponderance of the child population in the country, with 57.4% of the population below the poverty line, emphasizes the need for programming of observing 1979 as the "International Year of the Child", in our country.

3. The United Nations had declared 1979 as the "International Year of the Child". The objectives of the "International Year of the Child", as delineated in the United Nations General Assembly Resolution of 21 December 1976, were as follows:-

- a. To provide a framework for advocacy on behalf of children and for enhancing the awareness of the special needs of children on the part of decision-makers and the public.
- b. To promote recognition of the fact that programmes for children should be an integral part of economic and social development plans with a view to achieving, in both the long term and the short term, sustained activities for the benefit of children at the national/international levels.

4. India has been one of the leading nations to espouse the cause of the children and promote the efforts of the international community that led to the declaration of 1979 as the "International Year of the Child". The advocacy of the cause of the children and the enhanced emphasis on the programmes for the welfare of children were not confined to the year 1979 alone. Rather, the International Year of the Child was the jumping board to promote programmes of a larger dimension and create a greater awareness in the nation for the cause of children.

5. Voluntary efforts have a special place in the total efforts of the country to promote the well being of the children. A number of voluntary organizations are already engaged in this work. The dimension of voluntary action and its importance in the country are expected to grow with time.

6. As a system of state recognition of voluntary efforts for the cause of children, the Govt. of India initiated, in 1979, the scheme of State recognition of voluntary efforts in the cause of children in the country.

7. The scheme as revised from time to time, now envisages awards to (i) three individuals who have done the best work in the cause of children; and (ii) five institutions that have done the best work in any branch of child welfare.

SCOPE

8. The award will be presented to individuals who have rendered the best work for the benefit of children and to institutions who have rendered the best work for the cause of children in a particular year.
